French Accents Reveals New Lines For High Point Market

New York City, February 28, 2022: — French Accents will be unveiling new collections and designs for High Point Market.

French Accents has expanded its existing popular collections such as the Oushak, Bespoke Nepalese, Khotan, and more while also introducing new color options to existing designs. This is followed by new collections that have yet to be showcased in High Point.

Khotan Collection:

French Accents is introducing a new texture to our popular Khotan collection. The following new designs employs a texture similar to a sculptural relief, there are varieties in the pile height which add dimension to the entire rug.

Worn Classics:

The Worn Classics is a new collection that employs classic motifs, hand-knotted to create subtle worn-out textures. This is a new interpretation in engaging with traditional designs.

Retro Bloom:

The Retro Bloom line is French Accents's first floral line. It was conceived with the idea of providing a floral line that was accessible to all. The design is both edgy and soft, the designs do not repeat, giving an organic fluidity throughout.

All designs offered will be available in standard and custom sizes.

Custom Capabilities

Every rug by French Accents is fully customizable. French Accents can fully customize existing designs to accommodate any projects, ranging from color palette changes to an unorthodox rug size.
