

Bure - A landscape in motion

Bure is a sofa with endless possibilities. Each module is a building block that can be assembled into an exquisite landscape. Bure was designed by Nils Juul Eilersen, fourth generation Eilersen, in close collaboration with his father Jens Juul Eilersen.

Bure cost EUR 5707,00 incl. VAT for the version shown in Roth 29.

Soft embrace

The Bure sofa is named after the Norse god Burr, which means 'the born'. Bure can be combined in myriad ways to achieve many different expressions with each design creating its own unique version. Bure was made to be a centrepiece in any room it occupies.

"Designing and developing Bure was a long process and involved many different shapes and levels of softness. With Bure you can build landscapes that automatically become a showstopper and centrepiece, as the sofa is beautiful from all angles. Every angle is a new experience," explains Nils Juul Eilersen.

Soft and versatile

Arms, back and seats can be combined like beautiful building blocks. Side by side, on one side only or back to back, transforming the sofa into a gorgeous sculpture to be admired and enjoyed from all sides.

The moment you sink into Bure, you are embraced by the luxurious cushions and comfort. Bure's softness comes from the down top concealed in the cushions.

Prices:

Bure cost in silver leather EUR 18.160 incl. VAT and EUR 5707,00 incl. VAT for the version in Roth 29.

From coach to couch

Founded in 1895, Eilersen has focused on craftsmanship, quality, and innovation. The journey began producing coaches, and since the 1930s, Eilersen has been making beautiful, high-quality couches based on the same traditional values of excellent craftsmanship and innovation, that founded the company almost 130 years ago. This has made Eilersen a well-known and recognized high-end brand internationally.
