BERGS POTTER INTRODUCES THE BELLE COLLECTION

Bergs Potter is delighted to introduce the Belle Collection as part of the AW24 news. The collection is a testament to sophistication and exquisite craftsmanship and will be available in shops this autumn.

The Belle Collection epitomises elegance with its gracefully curved and sculpted organic shapes. Each piece, whether a vase or bowl, is meticulously handcrafted by skilled artisans on the potter's wheel, ensuring that no two Belles are alike. This unique, one-of-a-kind artistry adds to the collection's exclusivity.

Made from Maiolica clay and glazed with a transparent, food-safe glaze on the inside, the Belle Collection seamlessly blends beauty with functionality. These pieces are versatile and suitable for both flowers and food, making them a perfect addition to any home. The collection includes vases and bowls in two sizes.

ABOUT BERGS POTTER

Since 1942, Bergs Potter has crafted premium products for plants and people to thrive in harmony. Timeless designs crafted with love the traditional way. All made to last for generations. Bergs Potter makes plant pots and vases designed in Denmark and lovingly crafted at small potteries in Tuscany and Porto. Premium clay and a high-firing process make the terracotta pots strong and durable, yet porous, giving plants optimal growing conditions. Bergs Potter offers a wide range of pots, from the cute little bookshelf pot to the substantial floor pot, all with a watertight saucer, so they can be used both indoors and outdoors. The glazed range includes a vibrant selection of indoor pots and vases in timeless colours.
