313 Space: A New Paradigm in Showroom Design Debuts at High Point Market

HIGH POINT, N.C. [9/26/2024] -- The Fall High Point Market is set to witness the grand unveiling of 313 Space, a revolutionary new building that promises to redefine the showroom experience. Conceived by Rudi Nijssen and Dominique Sente-Nijssen, the visionary couple behind antiques market and lighting brand Schwung, this state-of-the-art facility will open its doors from October 23-30, 2024, showcasing a new curated market experience with an unparalleled blend of outdoor luxury, antique dealers, and cutting-edge design.

313 Space will host an impressive roster of exhibitors, including:

- Best-in-class outdoor brands such as Dedon's new US headquarters, Harbour Outdoor, Mecox Gardens, and Gloster Furniture
- Vintage and antique showcases, with Schwung occupying the majority of the first floor, joined by PRB Collection and 214 Modern Vintage
- Sustainable Global Brands including Parsons Healthy Material Labs, Keim Mineral Paints, Libeco, MushLume Lighting, Nanamarquina, PET Lamp, Myco Works and more

"We envision 313 Space as an antithesis to the typical market building," said Rudi, co-founder of Schwung. "Our goal was to create an environment that not only showcases exceptional products, but also provides an inspiring experience for visitors."

Highlights of 313 Space include:

1. Diverse Brand Directory: A carefully curated selection of established and emerging brands
2. South African Pop-Up: Featuring artisan brands never before seen in the US
3. Market Debuts: Welcoming first-time exhibitors including District Eight, R1 Premium, Gloster, PRB Collections, Mafi, MushLume Lighting, Duracryl, and more

"313 Space is more than just a showroom; it's a destination that celebrates design in all its forms," added Dominique. "We're thrilled to offer a platform for both established and emerging brands to showcase their creativity."
