

ANTONIA
COLLECTION

Antonia Collection Unveils Bold New Pieces at October High Point Market, Showcasing a Fusion of Architecture and Design

Fresh additions will reinvigorate an already innovative and emotive collection notable for its marrying of interior design and architecture

Miami, FL., October 17, 2024 – The Antonia Collection, a luxurious and avant-garde line designed by Antonia Caicedo, Design Director and VP at JIMECO, will officially introduce 12 new additions at High Point Market, coming up October 26-30, 2024. These new pieces are a strategic enhancement to a collection that is already light years ahead in interior design, brimming with pieces forged in a marrying between Art Deco and Mid-Century modern styles. Antonia's experience in the architectural world comes through in the collection's utilization of sleek geometrical forms, light feminine edges and clean intersection of volumes and finishes.

"These new designs embody the harmony of form, space, and style," says Antonia Caicedo. "At the core of my collection is the belief that furniture is meant to be used, to be experienced, it must feel good when surrounded by it. I want my furniture to be a sensorial experience... The Antonia Collection is livable luxury."

New pieces featured include:

- Fontainebleau Sideboard
- Strasbourg Sideboard
- Josephine Sideboard
- Saint Honoré Coffee Table
- Henri Coffee Table
- Dauphine Coffee Table
- Magritte Coffee Table
- Saint Honoré Console
- Lyon Parchment Console
- Royale Dining Table
- Parisienne 72" Dining Table
- Martina

View the new Antonia Collection pieces at the showroom:

Location:

116 S. Lindsay St.

Shuttle Stop: 11 (Green Line)

Neighborhood: Market Square & Elm

High Point Market is the ideal platform for debuting the pieces as it is the ultimate destination for all things design, offering endless product options and unexpected moments of joy. It's not just about products but also the experience, with exciting events and opportunities that spark inspiration. Market week feels like a homecoming for industry professionals, making it easy to connect and build relationships.

High Point Market will also feature two events, allowing attendees to engage with Antonia and learn more about the collection.

“Brewing Radiance with Antonia Caicedo,” in collaboration with Fine Art Handcrafted Lighting, is an opportunity for event attendees to speak with Antonia about the collection, all the while enjoying a delicious cup of coffee.

- When:
 - Saturday, October 26, 2-3 pm ET
 - Sunday, October 27, 2-3 pm ET
- Location:
Showroom C229

Celebrate our new Fall 2024 showroom in collaboration with Alfredo Paredes and EJ VICTOR. Join Antonia and Alfredo for a chic evening to celebrate beautiful design and enjoy some cocktails and appetizers.

- When:
 - Sunday, October 27, 6-8 pm ET
- Location:
EJ Victor Showroom
116 S. Lindsay St.
Shuttle Stop: 11 (Green Line)
Neighborhood: Market Square & Elm

To meet with Antonia Caicedo at High Point Market to discuss the latest additions to the Antonia Collection, and/or to receive images of the new pieces, please contact jimeco@digiiinkpr.com.

About the Antonia Collection

The Antonia Collection is a luxury collection that forges a bond between the Art Deco and Mid-Century modern styles in effortless fashion, bringing together three industry leaders and their legacies to converge and advance in unison. The Antonia Collection encompasses an assortment of case-goods, occasional and upholstery pieces, together with its own lighting collection. Created by Antonia Caicedo and drawing on her experience in architecture and interior design, the collection is characterized by clean geometrical forms, subtle feminine edges, the juxtaposition of volumes, and the intersection of finishes. Together, these components are a fresh expression of sophistication and youth that builds upon the carefully crafted work of previous masters that shaped entire generations. To learn more about the Antonia Collection, please visit our website, Instagram or YouTube.

About JIMECO

Built on two generations of craftsmanship, JIMECO is a family tradition of elegant finishes, joinery, and furniture. Working closely with high-end interior designers and architects, JIMECO is permanently showcased in the finest interiors around the world. As a leading industry atelier, JIMECO's work is timeless in its dedication to sustainable artisanry, crafting each piece one by one with skills passed down over generations. JIMECO pieces are benchmarks at the highest level of luxury and quality, with the singular objective of eliciting an enduring emotional response from its audience and captivating their imagination. Today, many of the company's products from previous decades are being auctioned off at Christie's, Sotheby's or 1stDibs. To learn more about JIMECO and its products, please visit our website, and follow us on Instagram, LinkedIn or YouTube.