FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: HOWARD ELLIOTT WELCOMES LYN MCNEIL AS TREND PARTNER

Addison, IL: We are very proud to welcome Lyn McNeil as a Howard Elliott design insider and trend partner!

Meet Lyn....

"I'm an observer. I'm consumed by all things related to creating a home. I have been fortunate to be involved in many aspects of the fascinating business of design, as a Trend prognosticator for Target Corporation, Marshall Fields; as well as Vice President of Design and Product Development for manufacturer John Richard.

I have scoured the Antique Markets of Europe and slogged through muddied fields, complete with charging chickens, to view wonderful workshops in Vietnam. My hands have long since recovered despite hand printing of fabric with ancient wood blocks to create unique pillows in India. I have been fortunate to have worked with wonderfully talented Designers in the past including Martha Stewart, Thomas O'Brien, and Jonathan Adler.....

Throughout my career, it has been a passion of mine to share my learnings and experiences with like-minded people who share my enthusiasm for this business of design.

My desire here, is to enjoy a spirited interaction with fellow devotees of Design to help us grow in knowledge and reap the rewards of success."

We are excited to get Lyn's unique perspective on the industry trends and report them back to you! Stay tuned for more from Lyn!
