THE LATEST FROM COPELAND FURNITURE: CAMDEN, ISO, AND EXPANDED LINN, BERKELEY COLLECTIONS

Bradford, VT. (August 5, 2020) Family-owned and operated American manufacturer, COPELAND FURNITURE (www.copelandfurniture.com) is announcing two brand-new collections -- CAMDEN bedroom and ISO dining -- as well as an expansion of the LINN and BERKELEY collections. This fall the Vermont-based manufacturer, known for its sustainable business practices and popular mid-century modern designs, is investing heavily in new products and ready-to-ship inventory as Americans have been spending far more time at home and have turned to improving their interiors.

The CAMDEN bedroom collection, named after the coastal town in Maine, exudes distinctly New England soft-contemporary design. One highlight of the collection is the CAMDEN Bed, a light-scale sleigh bed, made for use with a mattress alone [pictured below in Natural Cherry Finish]. The attached night tables add integrated functionality for a clean visual presentation. Manufactured in finger joined cherry that has been reclaimed from Copeland's operations and popularly priced, CAMDEN will be included in Copeland's Quick Ship program, promising retailers shipment within one week of order entry.

The ISO dining collection (named for the Greek word meaning "equal") refers to the balanced orderliness and proportionality of the design. Pictured below in Copeland's Bright Oak finish, ISO includes side chairs and armchairs, a wide selection of extension and fixed-top tables, buffets and a standing bar cabinet. Manufactured in sustainably harvested white oak and available in four finishes, ISO is responsive to the emerging trend toward lighter wood tones, particularly those with a more open pore structure.

Additionally, Copeland will be expanding its popular, LINN bedroom collection with all pieces now being available in White Oak in addition to Walnut [pictured below in Bright Oak Finish]. Like CAMDEN, LINN in Bright Oak will be included in Copeland's Quick Ship program. Three additional oak finishes will be available at regular production lead times.

Finally, due to popular demand, Copeland will be expanding its BERKELEY bedroom collection. Previously available in cherry with walnut accents, the longtime favorite will now also be available in solid Walnut [pictured below]. Bed spindles and drawer pulls will be finished in Copeland's Harvest stain to preserve the contrasting accents also present in the Solid Cherry finish.
