Tamara Day by Spectra Home Upholstery Collection Makes its Market Debut

A portion of the collection's proceeds marked for Common Thread for the Cure Foundation
High Point, NC, Oct. 14, 2023 – Tamara Day, known as the purveyor of glam and cozy lifestyle looks and host of Magnolia Network's top hit show Bargain Mansions, has partnered with Spectra Home to launch a family-friendly upholstery seating collection that fits into Day's mantra of being affordable, attainable, and aspirational. The new laid-back luxe collection can be experienced in the Spectra Home showroom, 200 N Hamilton #213, during the High Point Market, Oct 14-18.

“We have enjoyed working with Tamara and creating an upholstery collection that is great looking, easy-to-care for and very livable with kids and pets,” stated Jim Telleys, president of Spectra Home. “The on-trend transitional and traditional styling mixed with the textured prints and solid fabrics, leather covers and accent pillows fits perfectly with the evolving needs of our designer and retail partners and their customers.”

“As an added note,” Telleys continued, “we are donating a portion of the proceeds from the Tamara Day by Spectra Home collection to Common Thread for the Cure Foundation to support those battling breast cancer in the home furnishings and design industries. We also invite all visitors to our showroom to write their healing intentions on a piece of fabric that will be used to upholster a chair from the Tamara Day by Spectra Home collection. The Chair of Hope, infused with hopeful, helpful energy will be on display at the Spring Market and sold to help fund a Common Thread for the Cure Foundation support grant.”

The Common Thread for the Cure Foundation, founded in 2000 by the late Suzann Burkhead-Bray and her brother, Scott Burkhead, in honor of their younger sister, Sandra Burkhead Campbell who died from breast cancer, supports individuals fighting breast cancer who are affiliated with the furnishings and design industries by offering financial assistance through confidential grants. The grants are intended to enhance quality of life and can be used to meet any financial obligations, household needs and transportation to medical appointments.

Here is a sampling of Tamara Day by Spectra Home upholstery collection including sofas, sectionals, benches, chairs, swivel chairs and ottomans in a variety of fun prints, solids and textured easy-care fabrics, jacquards, and leathers.
