HiEnd Accents Presents Diverse and Inspired Collections at the High Point Fall Market

Irving, TX - October 10, 2023

HiEnd Accents, renowned for its everyday luxury bedding and home goods, is thrilled to invite attendees to its showcase at the upcoming High Point Fall Market.

This fall, immerse yourself in a diverse showcase that includes the serene allure of coastal ambiance and the distinct sophistication of menswear-inspired textiles, among a treasure trove of artful designs and exquisite craftsmanship in their curated lineup.

"We take pride in our continual commitment to providing collections that speak to the diverse tastes of our clientele. This fall, we're introducing our audience to a balance of classic and fresh designs that are sure to become favorites," said Scottie Collins, Creative Manager and Chief Designer at HiEnd Accents.

Leading their showcase is the enchanting Coastal Toile, a celebrated feature from their Spring Collection, which will once again adorn their front bed. As the seasons change and cooler winds beckon, retailers looking to provide their customers with the serenity of winter landscapes will be enthralled by their new Ski Toile. This exquisite design takes pride of place, inviting onlookers into a world of alpine wonder.

Further expanding the range, the newly unveiled Voile Collection enchants with its subtle elegance and versatile application. Complementing this is the much-anticipated menswear-inspired range. Taking cues from the tailored world of menswear, HiEnd Accents has beautifully integrated designs reminiscent of heritage plaid, oversized windowpane, classic tweeds, and the evergreen herringbone aesthetic.

"We noticed a strong inclination from designers towards the buttoned-up world of menswear. This fall, we've responded by offering pieces that capture that structured, timeless look while ensuring the warmth and comfort our brand is known for," added Collins.
