FALL HIGH POINT MARKET

Two CEUs, the annual Fall Celebration & more are set to occur at Showplace 4100

CARTERSVILLE, GA. (October 6, 2017) — Surya continues its tradition of presenting events where High Point Market attendees can expand their industry knowledge and network with peers and influencers over daily complimentary catered meals, hors d'oeuvres and cocktails at Showplace 4100.

“Every year, we set out to host events that engage market attendees in insightful discussions about topics that impact their businesses and the overall design community,” said Satya Tiwari, president of Surya. “This year, we are excited to not only bring the discerning business mind of designer Denise McGaha to the Surya showroom, but also present our own original CEU course that will uncover interesting and useful facts about area rugs.”

The events hosted by Surya are as follows:

The Guide to Area Rugs (0.1 CEU)

Saturday, October 14 from 2-3 p.m.

Surya's first-ever CEU course will survey uses of area rugs throughout the world and history, from thousands of years ago to today. The demonstration of materials, fabrication and application practices will improve designers' ability to provide informed style solutions for clients.

Fall Celebration
